Forecast For Northwest England
Issued by Met Office Exeter
at 1600 on Sunday 02 May 2021

++ Valid for broadcast between 1800 and 0600

Headline:
Heavy rain and strong winds through Monday.

This Evening and Tonight:
During the evening, any isolated showers will soon fade to clear spells. A rather cold night before cloud builds from the west during the early hours bringing showery outbreaks of heavy rain. Minimum temperature -1 deg C (30 deg F).

Monday:
A cloudy start with outbreaks of rain, becoming heavier and more persistent through midday and afternoon. Winds strengthening across the region with coastal gales. Heavy rain turning showery through evening. Maximum temperature 11 deg C (52 deg F).

Outlook for Tuesday to Thursday:
Sunny spells and showers, locally heavy through Tuesday to Thursday with showers at times falling wintry over high ground. Cold by day and night with overnight frosts becoming widespread.

(C) Crown Copyright 2021. Published by the Met Office.